ATR Hosts the ERA Air Safety Group Meeting

Blagnac, 23 September 2016 – ATR welcomed the European Regions Airline Association (ERA) Air Safety Group at their headquarters in Blagnac.

ERA Air Safety Group brings together the European regional airlines, manufacturers and safety professionals to discuss and share the latest aviation safety developments, regulation updates and concerns specific to Europe.

“Every region has its own opportunities to continually improve flight safety. It is important to be close to our clients to understand the local operational specificities, to adapt to their needs and to support their flight safety objectives,” explains Christopher McGregor, Flight Safety Officer.

The event represented an excellent opportunity to promote Flight Safety enhancements such as Flight Data Monitoring (FDM), and updates on the Upset Prevention and Recovery Training (UPRT) policy.

“The work of the ERA Air Safety Group makes a real contribution to aviation safety. The principal focus and objective of the group is to improve the safety of our members operations and to provide an environment for members to share and discuss their own safety experiences as well as learn about developments and trends in safety related issues,” explains Chris Mason, ERA Manager policy & technical.
