ATR at MRO Europe 2014

ATR, the leading regional aircraft manufacturer, will participate in MRO Europe 2014, which is held at the IFEMA in Madrid (Spain) from October 7 to 9, 2014.

At the booth #1205, ATR Customer Support and Services team will present its comprehensive range of tailor-made support solutions to aircraft operators, owners and lessors alike. The Global Maintenance Agreement (GMA) will be specifically featured as a unique fully-customized and flexible solution for on-aircraft and off-aircraft maintenance.

Facilitating ATR customers' day-to-day aircraft operations is a major concern. The GMA is a unique and innovative pay-by-the-hour program which makes maintenance cost planning a straightforward and manageable task. The GMA guarantees an ongoing availability of spare parts with a no-risk turn-around time, simplified logistics due to the unique interface provided by ATR, and an unbeatable quality of services.
